

A Winter's Day

It was like the North Pole
Snow was drifting through the town
Falling softly and silently, resting gently
Snow as cold as ice
A winter tree glows
As the wind gently blows
Imagine a snowflake dancing in the air
Whirling, twirling from the skies
See them glistening before your eyes
Icicles sparkling like the bright moon
Beautiful, shiny and sharp
Branches laden with soft, fluffy snow
Giggling clouds of breath
In a blizzard of white, the land says 'Goodnight'
